

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

For Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "advertisements" free any more than a merchant can give his customer free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a valuable business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, as matter is what part of the paper they appear.

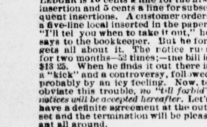

The Continued Calls upon The Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that the following terms:

For Notices of Suppliers. Excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for shipping notices, readmissions of respect, etc., The Ledger will charge a line, and hereafter this will be the standard rate. This, however, is not for the first time.

Does Not Include notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes. Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Leads in The Ledger is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a business lead inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you where to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The rate for a line for two months—24 lines—is $12.00. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy. It would probably be an easy thing to do, to obviate this trouble, no "fill" clause would be inserted in the contract. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant and all around.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

LIFE IS A GAME OF CARDS.

Life is but a game of cards, which each one has to learn.

Black shuffles, cuts and deals a pack, and each a trump doth turn.

Some turn a high card at the top, while others turn a low.

Some hold a hand full of trumps, while others none can show.

Some shuffle with a practiced hand and pack their cards with care;

So they may know, when they are dealt, where all the leaders are.

Thus are made the dupes of rogues, and rogues each other cheat;

But he is very wise indeed who never meets defeat.

In playing some lead the ace, their counting out to save.

Some play the deuce and some the ten, and many play the four.

Some play for money and some for fun, and more for worldly gain.

And until the game's played out can they count up their gain?

When hearts are trumps we play for love, then pleasure decks the hour;

No thought of sorrow checks our joy, in roses beautiful bow.

We dance and sing, sweet music make, our cards at random play.

And while the hearts remain on top, our game is but a holiday.

When diamonds chance to crown the top, then players stake their gold;

And heavy sums are won and lost by gamblers young and old.

Intest on winning, each doth watch his card with eager eye.

So he may watch his neighbor's hand and cheat him on the fly.

When clubs are trumps look out for war, on ocean and on land.

For bloody deeds are often done when clubs are in the hand.

Then lives are staked instead of gold, the days are stolen not bread.

Across the broad Atlantic now, our clubs have got the lead.

And last of all, when the spade is turned by hand of time,

And always closes up the game in every land and clime.

No matter how much a man may win or how much a man may lose,

You'll find the spade turns up at last and deals the player's loss.

REMARKABLE RECORD. Is There a Lodge in the State That Can Beat This?

DeKalk Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., of this city until recently enjoyed the distinction of having in its membership a sire, son and grandson—Messrs. Christopher Russell, Colonel C. C. Russell and Mr. J. Barlow Russell.

The death of the former a few months since severed the chain.

But DeKalk has another distinction. Three of her original members,—and the first three initiated March 23d, 1842,—are members still—in good health and in good standing—and it is also unique that their initials follow in sequence—B. C. and D.

They are Mr. Theodore H. Brickell, for many years past a resident of Sedalia, Mo., but who retains his membership here, and Messrs. Newton Cooper and Richard Dawson of this city.

It will be 50 years on the 23d of next month since these gentlemen united with the Order.

Is there another Lodge in Kentucky that can beat this?

MAKE TRAVEL FREE!

LET ALL THE PEOPLE HAVE EQUAL BENEFITS!

Let everybody attend the public meeting at the Courthouse next Monday afternoon at 1:30.

The free pike question, so far as Mason county is concerned, has narrowed down to active and actual work.

A long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether will now secure the release of all our people from the clutches of the tollgate and its salaried highwayman.

The LEDGER wants every neighborhood to have good roads, and it wants to make the burden equal on all the people.

One way to accomplish this is to acquire the roads by purchase, place them in charge of a non-partisan Commission, and levy a small per cent. on the county assessment to maintain them.

But the most logical and the most equitable and as we believe the most economical way to accomplish the purpose is to ascertain from the owners the average yearly receipts of the gates within this county on all roads and to pay an equivalent to the tolls now received from a fund to be provided by equal taxation for that purpose.

This would leave the roads in the hands of present owners.

They would be required to maintain them as now.

They would be rid of the expense of the gatekeepers and tollhouses;

And their income from tolls would be just what it now is.

In case of the dividend-paying roads, the dividend paid on the county's stock would lessen the public burden by that much.

But THE LEDGER is not so wedded even to the latter plan that it will not accept any other, if a better one can be devised.

For nearly fifty years all the people have been taxed for the benefit of only a part of the people!

THE LEDGER now wants all the people taxed for the benefit of all the people.

Let "Free Travel" be the watchword in the next campaign in Mason county.

At Lexington the investigation of city affairs by the Grand Jury has created much comment. Those in a position to know say the investigation, if pushed in the right direction, will result in some sensational disclosures. It is a matter of record that the city's expenditures for the year 1888 were $144,000. Now the expenditures are $275,000 per annum—an increase of 70 per cent in six years. If they increase in the same proportion during the next six years the year 1901 will find the city paying $461,500 per annum in expenses. Property holders are crying aloud for relief from the terrible oppression.

BUILT BY CROZET.

Part of the C. and O. the Work of Napoleon's Engineer.

Colonel C. B. Ryan of the C. and O. tells of an interesting fact about a part of the roadbed of that road between here and Washington City.

It seems that recently Purchasing Agent George W. Stevens of the Q. and C. was making a trip between here and the National Capital in company with President Ingalls of the C. and O.

President Ingalls, while the train was making the run over that part of the line in the Blue Ridge region, declared that the roadbed far quite a distance was built by Crozet, who was Napoleon's engineer during the rule of the French Emperor, whose downfall led to the present French Republic.

It seems that after Napoleon III fell, his adherents drifted to various parts of the world and Crozet came to America. He was an experienced engineer, and was in charge of the construction of parts of the old Virginia Central and Railway roadbed, over which the C. and O. now runs for a good distance.

"This roadbed," said Colonel Ryan, "is as solid as a rock, and shows with what care Crozet designed it. It was a famous engineer—was the directing power in all of the great works carried out under Napoleon III, but it seems strange that he should build a railway roadbed in this country and so few people know of the fact."

FREE SILVER.

Congressman Bland Offers a Substitute to the Springer Bill. It Provides Not Only for the Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver,

But Also for the Retirement of the Treasury Notes by the Issue in their stead of Dollars Colored From the Silver Bullion in the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Bland Wednesday introduced a free silver bill as a substitute for the Springer currency measure. It provides not only for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, but also for the retirement of the treasury notes by the issue in their stead of dollars colored from the silver bullion. It also declared that the authority of the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds for any purpose whatever should be revoked.

The offer of this substitute created a great deal of interest. Nothing could be more diametrically opposed to the Springer proposition. It is the antithesis of everything desired by the administration, and urged upon congress by the administration agents in the house.

In spite of this the Bland bill has the endorsement of a majority of the democratic members of the house, and it is possible that if a direct vote were to be taken on it a majority would be in favor of both houses favorable to its enactment.

A direct vote, will not, however, be had. A point will be raised against its consideration on the ground that the substitute is not germane to the original bill in providing for the coinage of silver. This point will be sustained, in the opinion of Mr. Dingley and of other representatives. The fate of the Springer bill seems to be fairly determined. Indeed, it looks now as though the Springer bill might receive fewer votes than any other financial proposition which has been made to the house.

Many of the democrats will vote against it on account of the recognition which it gives to gold, and the republicans will oppose it because they know that the senate will not accept any such legislation, and for the reason that they have a proposition of their own upon which they are practically united.

The majority will support Reed's plan for the issue of subsidiary low-rate certificates, as that in their judgment is the only measure which can become a law. In fact, it was introduced by Mr. Reed until a canvass had been made of the senate to determine its availability.

IN THE HOUSE

For Five Hours the Currency is Debated by the Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The banking and currency and gold loan bill was discussed in the house for five hours Wednesday, after 3 o'clock, under the five-minute rule, when amendments were ordered.

The principal speech in the general debate was made by Mr. Broussier (rep. Pa.), a member of the committee reported by the bill, who made an eloquent appeal in the name of patriotism and duty for united action to relieve the country from its present condition.

The amendments proposed by the committee, with two exceptions, were agreed to, after inter-recesses, and at times exciting debate, during which there was much confusion on the floor. The committee proposed to strike out the section to retire all national bank notes to less denominations than $10 and all silver certificates of higher denomination than $10 and then require state banks to issue lawful reserves in gold coin or gold certificates.

Numerous amendments were proposed by individual members, but of those agreed to only two were of importance. One, offered by Mr. Hagen (rep. Wis.), reduced from $30,000 to $20,000 the minimum capital stock of national banks; the other, offered by Mr. Hartman of Montana, required the payment of $10 in gold for the duties collected to be in gold and half in silver.

Mr. Bland's free silver proposition as a substitute for the bill was also discussed, and from that decision Mr. Bland appealed. No quorum voted on the question of sustaining the chair, and the house adjourned at 10:30 p. m., leaving the appeal pending for settlement.
